

ACCIDENTS.

Maurice Hanley, a laborer, thirty-eight years of age, of No. 88 Dikeman street, had his leg broken by a bale of cotton falling upon it, while at work in the German-American Warehouse Company's stores, foot of Partition street.

Clipped By:

philiphayes

Tue, Jun 11, 2019