

risly brought on by the old wound. Mr. Hanley was 50 years of age and left a wife and six children.

Mrs. LILLIAN DAILLEDOUZE, wife of John A. P. Dailedouze, who is associated with his father, a florist in Brooklyn, died on Friday at her home, 583 Linden Avenue, Flatbush, aged 25 years.

THOMAS F. O'BRIEN, a retired Sergeant of the New York Police Department, and a member of Kings County Tent, No. 379, Knights of Maccabees, and of the Third Assembly District Democratic Club, died on Friday at his home, 198 Baltic Street, Brooklyn. He had been connected with the Police Department for thirty-five years.

WILLIAM J. MCKAY, for twenty-five years with the Fairbanks Company of New York, and for the last several years the cashier of that firm, died at his home, 9 Debevoise Place, Brooklyn, on Friday, in his forty-ninth year. Mr. McKay was Treasurer of the Epworth League and of the Men's Society of the Fleet Street M. E. Church, and was recently elected a member of the Board of Trustees and assistant organizer of the church. His wife and a son survive him.

JOHN A. SHERWOOD, 70 years old, for thirty-five years in the employ of Arnold Constable & Co., died on Friday at his home, 570 Fifty-seventh Street, Brooklyn. He was a member of the Royal Arcanum and of the Holy Name Society of the Church of Our Lady of Perpetual Help.

Mrs. ANTOINETTE MUELLER, wife of Henry Mueller, a business man of the Eastern District of Brooklyn, died of heart disease on Friday at her home, 123 South Fourth Street, Brooklyn, aged 38 years.

Mrs. ANNIE SOLOMON, 67 years old, wife of Julius Solomon, a real estate operator of Brooklyn, died on Friday at her home, 1,235 Fifty-first Street, Borough Park. Besides her husband she left a daughter and three sons.

HARRY JOHNSTON, an expert accountant for the American Express Company, and prominent in Knights of Columbus circles in Brooklyn, died on Thursday at his home, 274 Fourteenth Street, that borough, of heart disease.

Mrs. CARRIE CURRIER VAN BRUNT, widow of Cornelius Henshaw Van Brunt, died on Friday at her home, 212 Gates Avenue, Brooklyn. Mrs. Van Brunt was born in Haverhill, Mass., and is survived by two daughters.

Mrs. MARIE O'KEEFE, 68 years old, mother of Dr. John J. O'Keefe, a Brooklyn physician, died on Thursday at her home, 124 Linden Avenue, Flatbush.

FRANK MICHAEL BLAU, a well-known real estate dealer of Flatbush and formerly active in Democratic politics in that section, died in the Methodist Episcopal Hospital, Brooklyn, on Friday from heart disease. Mr. Blau was born 47 years ago in Austria, and was a member of Central Lodge of Freemasons and Champion Council, R. A. He lived at 584 East Eighth Street, and left a wife, two daughters, and four sons.

DOUGLAS H. THOMAS, Jr., an architect and the son of Douglas H. Thomas, President of the Merchants' National Bank of Baltimore, Md., was found dead on Friday, under his automobile, on a country road. The steering gear was broken and had been driven into his body. Mr. Thomas had attended a wedding shortly before, at midnight, leaving the Maryland Club in his car alone. He was a member of the firm of Parker, Thomas & Rice, architects, of Boston and Baltimore.

Mrs. MARGARET TOWNSEND STONE, widow of Dr. Robert Stone, died on Thursday, at North Hatley, Quebec. She was a daughter of the late Nathan Peck of New Haven.

Dr. JAMES D. HYLAND, a dentist of this city, died on Friday, at the home of his brother, Dr. E. M. Hyland, at 285 Genesee Street, Utica, N. Y. He was born in Northern New York and was a graduate of the New York Dental College. Dr. Hyland had been in business in this city for twenty years and had offices at 255 West Forty-fourth Street. Four brothers survive him.

GABRIEL LLOYD, building contractor, with offices at 477 West 150th Street, died on Friday at his home, 400 West 151st Street, in his forty-seventh year. He was born in Wales and came to this city twenty-seven years ago. Mr. Lloyd was a member of the Welsh Congregational Church, the Ivorite Lodge, and Franklin Lodge, F. and A. M. His widow and three children survive him.

IRVING BALDWIN, a brother of Elbert Baldwin, an editor of The Outlook, died on Friday at his home in Greenwich, Conn., in his fifty-third year. He was graduated from Williams College in 1888.

EUGENE K. DUNBAR, Vice President of the Van Ormer Coal Company of Boston and the owner of the St. Albans Gas Works, died on Friday at Ashmont, Mass., in his sixty-ninth year.

The Rev. J. B. MERRITT, for many years chaplain of the Seamen's Bethel in Norfolk, Va., died there on Friday in his seventy-fifth year. He was known to sailors all along the coast.

STEPHEN J. LYNCH, whom Samuel J. Tilden thanked for saving his home, Greystone, from fire, died on Friday at his home, 25 Madison Avenue, Yonkers, in his fifty-second year. With two other volunteer firemen he fought the flames for an hour. The home is now owned by Samuel Untermyer.

PAUL WALDO VINAL, organist of Holy Trinity Church at Yarmouth, N. S., died on Friday at his home in that place. He was born in Middletown, Conn., and had lived at Yarmouth since 1911. Mr. Vinal was educated in this country and in Germany, and was noted as an organist.

GEORGE S. COMSTOCK, a prominent manufacturer, died at his home in Mechanicsburg, Penn., yesterday, at the age of 64. He was a member of the State Board of Labor and Industry, and had been President of the Pennsylvania Engineer's Society.

FREDERICK HAFFER, a veteran of the civil war and one of the oldest citizens of Paterson, N. J., died at his home, 49 Pearl Street, yesterday. He was a retired carpenter.

KARL SEIST, 63 years old, well known on Staten Island, died suddenly of apoplexy last night at his home in Griffin Street, Tompkinsville. He was born in Germany, and came to America when a young man. For thirty-five years he had carried on a stone quarry business. Mr. Seist was a member of the Klopstock Lodge of Masons, the Staten Island Quartet Club and the German Club.

Mrs. HENRY WARBURTON, aged 81 years, one of the best-known women in Paterson, N. J., died at her Ridgewood home yesterday. Mrs. Warburton was born in England, but came to this country when a young woman. She lived in Paterson for fifty years. Mrs. Warburton is survived by three sons.

WILLIAM E. THRONE died at his home, 38 East Forty-fourth Street, Bayonne, N. J., yesterday, aged 63 years. He was prominent in yachting circles, and served several times as Commodore of the Pavonia Yacht Club. He was a charter member and Past Exalted Ruler of Bayonne Lodge of Elks.

Obituary Notes.

PATRICK S. HANLEY, a patrolman, for almost twenty-five years attached to the Hamilton Avenue Station, Brooklyn, died yesterday at his home, 400A Prospect Avenue. About three years ago he was shot in the back while trying to capture a man who had shot a brother officer and a citizen. Last Sunday he complained of severe pains in his back, and physicians who examined him said that he was suffering from pleu-